

Bathurst businessman named to Wallace McCain Institute entrepreneurial program

- The Northern Light (Bathurst)
- Tue Jun 7 2016
- Page: B4
- Section: Business
- Byline: the northern light

A Bathurst businessman is among a group of entrepreneurs chosen for the Wallace McCain Institute Entrepreneurial Leaders Program.

Remi Hebert, president of Pro Construction Inc. in Bathurst, was named to the ninth cohort of program representing the region's highest-growth potential entrepreneurs in the greater Atlantic area.

Hebert joins 16 others who were chosen following a two-day process. These 16 entrepreneurs will now meet for two days per month over the next year in an elite program with speakers and peer interaction.

This group, which represents all four Atlantic Provinces, has a collective economic footprint of $95,550,000 in revenue and more than 690 employees.

Pro Construction Inc. was founded by Andre Hebert in 1980 and employs more than 20. The general construction company has done projects in areas such as the senior care industry, industrial and commercial building maintenance market.