My discovery - the folks at WMI have an innate talent of selecting from hundreds, a cross section of Entrepreneurs, so diverse yet so similar, that the bond both intellectually and emotionally is instantaneous. The potential for personal and professional growth is unlimited.

We all would like to take more time to work on our businesses instead of just in our businesses, but going through that process with ELP is like fusing a mini MBA and sophisticated business coaching with just the right amount of therapy! Combining that with having your ELP group at your side, having your back and pushing you forward is a better experience than I ever could have dreamed for
